Character Camp Homework
Week of: September 17th – 21st, 2018

Welcome to the new 2018-2019 school year! To help get our scholars off to a great start and ensure they are college bound – to, through, and beyond, the practice of weekly homework begins with the first week of school. This homework connects to the Character Camp, which takes place at the beginning of the school year.

Please complete the homework below for each day, and return it daily to your HOME BASE TEACHER. This will help ensure we setting good habits for Read & Respond Homework once SFA begins. ***

Last summer, Maggie learned how to garbler when she went to the beach on summer vacation with her family. She saved up her money to pay for garblering lessons and she rented a garbler board and a wetsuit. Her teacher helped her swim out into the ocean. It took many, many tries but she finally caught a wave and was standing up on her garbler board and garblering on the ocean wave! What do you think garblering is? _____

Every summer, my sister and I make a forame stand. We sell our ice cold forame to the people in our neighborhood for 25 cents per cup. Our recipe for each cup of forame is one sour fora, two teaspoons of sugar, and a handful of ice cubes. The best types of foras are the big yellow ones from the grocery store. What do you think a forame stand is? _____

In the cold winter it is hard to remember how hot it can be in the summer! Every summer we go to my grandmother's house. It is so hot where she lives! The worst part is that she doesn't have any glibbing at her house. This makes it really hard to cool off. Instead of glibbing, she has a fan which helps a little bit. Thankfully, she has glibbing in the car. When I get in her car, she lets me turn the glibbing up full blast and let it blow ice cold air on my face. It feels so good after being so hot!
